- Saxton, Robert

6. Open Response:

6.1) What are the strengths of this course?

- The course work

- The proffesor is carrying the class the book is really hard to read and he is able to break down for you. His experience help alot more than the book sometimes and he talks about working in the field which helps you the most.

6.2) What changes would you recommend that would improve this course?

- I would get a new book it is outdated and all of the ones in the library are falling apart. I bought all of the pages in the front weren't even attached. I wasn't the only one either a couple of students in the class had the same problem.

- More learning activities of real world problems
