6. Open Response:

- <sup>6.1)</sup> What are the strengths of this course?
- Amazing amount of time between assignments.
- Doc Petrovich is very knowledgeable and very helpful with any questions about material.
- Doc has been amazing in her delivery of this course. I've learned so much based off this class. Further research has been such a fantastic tool in helping fill in the gaps I've had regarding this subject.
- Interaction with the professor via discussion board. When a student would comment on lead a discussion, a reply with explanation help make the material more understood.
- The PowerPoints provide adequate information to complete the labs.
- The course is very simple and direct as it allows you to achieve a full grasp of the content that is required in a very easy manner such as simply reading the books and participating in the discussions.
- The instructor is very helpful and understanding. She genuinely cares that you are learning and understanding what you are reading within the textbook. She also cares about her students mental health which I really appreciate.
- The strengths in this course is that with all the reading we have done in this course she still fond a way to make it interesting to gather ifromaiton from outside sources. I really enjoyed that part
- being able to get extra credit
- <sup>6.2)</sup> What changes would you recommend that would improve this course?
- I wish the instructor had videos of her doing the dissections and walking us through it herself, instead of YouTube videos.
- I would not change anything about this course. I am very happy.
- I would not make any changes
- I would probably add some type of non graded practice quizzes just so the student is comfortable that he or she has an understanding of the material.
- More ways to learn, instead of just teaching through the discussions.
- N/A
- make the online set up less confusing
- <sup>6.3)</sup> Any further, constructive comments?
