6. Open Response:

6.1) What are the strengths of this course?

- It prepared me for potential HR situations. The course gives a preview of different scenarios and requires well thought out responses. It is manageable in workload and helped me to understand how HR works and what their role is within a company.
- Requirements were well defined. Weekly news feed was appreciated.

6.2) What changes would you recommend that would improve this course?

- I would recommend a peer review survey. I like the group projects, but it is really tough to have to work with another student who may not be taking this opportunity as seriously as you. It is easy for a student to put on a facade when needed but show their true feelings when not in front of their instructor. In a workplace environment these situations are handled with write-ups, or some sort of record that will eventually lead to termination if the issue continues. In the school environment there is nothing to reprimand or correct them and then these people get pushed out into the workplace and bring their bad attitudes with them. It just doesn't benefit anyone.
- The course met all my expectations.

6.3) Any further, constructive comments?
