5.1) Your instructor will appreciate any comments you have concerning the course or his/her teaching.

- Dr. Smith is AMAZING. I genuinely love her class. She is personable and so helpful. She makes pharmacology, which is so information heavy, fun and easy to understand. She is encouraging, positive, and upbeat. The schedule in class, while very heavy, was realistic easy to read and easy to follow. The class was adjusted to meet the needs of the class, accommodate for natural disaster, but also took the students' mental health into account. I hope that I get her as a clinical instructor because she has so much more to teach me.
- Dr. Smith is an amazing sweet instructor that makes the terrible topic of pharmacology bearable and i genuinely enjoy her class.
- Dr. Smith is an excellent instructor. The class time is used very effectively. She is excited to teach and it makes me excited to learn. The material she posts is all very helpful. I especially like how she posts previous pharm recordings. I found those extremely helpful. She explains the material very well and answers our questions in a timely manner. Her time management is superb. She answers emails with great detail. Her teaching style is very effective. She is always professional. She let us know her expectations for us and the test material. She literally can not improve because she is amazing.
- Dr. Smith is an exceptional teacher. She puts forth a lot of effort to make difficult material understandable and she gives very clear expectations.
- I absolutely loved this course! The professor was always available to discuss any issues or concerns and I always felt like I was learning in her class. I wish everyone could have her in some compacity.
- I was extremely nervous about taking the pharmacology course as I heard how difficult and challenging it was, but my mind was at ease once I got to know Dr. Smith. She came to class every day excited to teach us. She encouraged us all the time and had faith in our ability to do well in her course. She supplied us with many different materials for each section and allowed different ways of learning. She had us do presentations, group work, case studies, quizzes, games, and more, which I believed helped diverse learners like myself. Dr. Smith made learning pharmacology exciting, and that is not something I thought I would have said towards the end of the semester.
- Pharmacology itself is one of the hardest classes of nursing's program. Dr. Smith has made it the easiest way possible. I feel that I have learn Pharm so much thanks to Dr. Smith. Thank you Dr. Smith. You are so special and caring. You will be in my heart forever
