6. Open Response:

- 6.1) What are the strengths of this course?
- Every subject is explained perfectly and the course isn't boring for being an online class.
- It teaches me social skills and how our society works.
- The strengths are the flexibility through completing the course due to all of the assignments being due at the end of the spring semester. This made me much less stressed and I gradually completed assignments and ended up finishing the entire course months before their due date.
- The strengths of this course are that you get to view the world with the educated and new perspective of what might cause certain people to do things or what might influence them, providing the student with a better foundation to consider people and their actions.
- The strengths of this course are, the instructor himself he is a great and helpful individual. The feedback time and responses to my questions are always in a reasonable manner.
- 6.2) What changes would you recommend that would improve this course?
- I do not have any changes that I would recommend to improve the course.
- I would not make any changes to this course.
- N/A
- No changes required
- The only thing I would say to add is some more slides of the information that the students can take notes on to help them learn and understand the information before taking the exams.
- <sup>6.3)</sup> Any further, constructive comments?
- I do not have any.
- I really enjoyed the fact that you could turn the assignments anytime between now and the end of the semester.
- Keep up with the great course. Excellent response time to guizzes and discussions.
