6. Open Response:

6.1) What are the strengths of this course?

- Tailored more to develop actual experience for the real world.
- The course was taught extremally well. I had no issues at all, and the course materials were explained thoroughly. Great experience.
- The details of the course were beneficial. The professor was helpful and very passionate about his job. Therefore, making this class very enjoyable. The professor was the strength of this course and the one who sat in on a presentation we had to give. It takes a special calling to be a teacher, and I respect a skillful, helpful one as they make the world a better place.
- We stayed on track with everything listed on the syllabus.

6.2) What changes would you recommend that would improve this course?

- The amount of time required for this class was the most of any I've taken at Brazosport. It is not designed for the working adult as the school advertises.
- The final group presentation needs more guidelines/specifications. It was difficult to have to make things up and answer questions I don't know. Google can only help so much, but I guess what I am saying state it more clearly that this assignment and all the data/information from it is a completely made-up thing. And make sure the "guests" aren't expecting real data versus a made up thing.
- The only changes I would make is being able to upload more than 1 video to the bongo program. It would help show who was there until the end.
- none

6.3) Any further, constructive comments?

- No.
- The assignment descriptions were very wordy while not communicating what was being expected.
